JULIE CURLY

Strong from countless singing performances in Québec and Europe, as a writer and musician, she's now releasing her self-produced debut album.

While John Lennon was tragically murdered in New York City, Julie was born in Montreal, during a blustery snowstorm. Julie's early arrival left her in a precarious premature fragile condition. Her determination proved to be her first character trait. Her passion for music may have been consistent for the last decade, but still, her journey towards making music has been making waves. She has always followed her own path as a singer-songwriter, launching in 2014 her debut album called Confessions, a 12 track album, in her native French speaking language. In the process of creating her own musical universe, playing guitar, piano and mandolin, joined with her vocal & lyrical talents, Julie Curly's beloved instruments, permit her to express her ideas, which come alive in the form of stories and short films. French or English, it doesn't matter. Heartfelt stories, such as Can you imagine? (The Killing of John Lennon) is her reason for making music. The music video of the song Can you imagine? won prizes such as an Akademia Music Award (California) for best live performance and finished number one with more than 4000 views on the Beat100 (Britain) Music Video Charts in 2015.
